LISA MARIE MACCI, center, participated in Law Day 2007 on behalf of the Palm Beach County Bar in Mrs. Aiasha Walker's class at Village Academy Elementary School in Delray Beach. "We had a great time doing a mock trial of 'The Big Bad Wolf' and then had a question-and-answer session about lawyers, the law, judges, and the courts," Macci said.

LANDAMERICA recently sponsored its first Charity Trivia Challenge, which pitted teams from LandAmerica's law firm agents against each other as well as a team from the company's Major Transaction Group. Each of the nine teams that competed selected a charity to play for. First prize was a $5,000 donation to the winning team's charity, second was $3,000, and third was $1,000. The winning team was from Killgore, Pearlman, Stamp, Ornstein and Squires and they selected the Orlando Breakfast Rotary Club Foundation which benefits Orange Center Elementary School. The foundation provides supplies, clothing, mentoring, and gifts to the school's neediest students. ## Stetson U. honors Milstein, Penrose

Stetson University College of Law presented its Wm. Reece Smith, Jr., Public Service Award to Richard C. Milstein and William L.
Penrose.

Milstein, a shareholder at Ak-erman Senterfitt in Miami, was recently appointed guardian ad litem to Anna Nicole Smith's five-month-old baby Danielynn, in the highly publicized case surrounding Smith's burial.

Penrose has practiced in St.
Petersburg for more than 40 years.
A past guest lecturer at Stetson College of Law, Penrose was on the founding board of the Little Harlem Council and served on the board of Pinellas United Way. He has served on the legal panel of the Pinellas chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union since 1975.
